

Argentine TANGO

in Salt Lake City

with Alex Krebs

Alex has studied and danced in Buenos Aires for more than six months over seven visits. His dance, influenced by many people and styles, notably early on by Mariano "Chicho" Frumboli (musicality), Fabian Salas (structure), Damian Esell and Nancy Louzan (posture, walk, elegance), is smooth, refined and musical.

Alex has taught and performed in major cities across North America, Europe and Buenos Aires. He teaches Argentine tango for the social dance floor, emphasizing improvisation, partner connection, and musicality. He tries to give his students the tools they need to find their own unique way of dancing.

Alex brings clarity and insight to his classes, and shares with students his passion for Argentine tango. His classes are popular, and he has invitations to teach all over the world.

Alex is also a choreographer, DJ, and musician. He has been studying the bandoneon since May 2002 and directs Conjunto Berretin, a tango band with two released CDs.
