

Argentine TANGO with

Ney Melo & Jennifer Bratt

JENNIFER BRATT

Jennifer discovered Argentine Tango in 2000. She was entranced by its energy and beauty and completely devoted herself to its pursuit. Jennifer's movements are defined by a natural grace and expressive fluidity, and she is known for her sharp embellishments and articulate feet. A number of videos on YouTube now showcase her footwork.

NEY MELO

Ney Melo is one of the most talented young Argentine Tango dancers and teachers currently touring the world. He is known for his innovative teaching methods and passion for teaching.

In his past life, Ney worked on Wall Street. When he discovered tango he left his Wall Street career to pursue tango in Buenos Aires. His story has been featured on CNBC on CNN.

Ney has studied tango with masters of the Villa Urquiza and modern salon styles of tango. He is the creator of Tango Television on YouTube which showcases the best tango dancers currently on the scene as well as rare footage of milongueros who shaped the dance.

NEY & JENNIFER

Ney and Jennifer are highly-respected teachers. They have taught and performed in over 30 cities and 12 countries. They organize 2 annual tours to Buenos Aires for dancers. In addition they recently opened a new studio, "Tango Vida", in San Francisco. This is the first studio in San Francisco dedicated to the Villa Urquiza/Salon style of Argentine tango, with a fully integrated program of body conditioning and tango classes.
